To All,

Some great responses here and I would like to send a thanks to all! AKid, I understand that you fish Chartiers often and if you ever need a partner to go chase carp, please, let me know as I am close by. I took my Father In-Law down to the Yough near Buena Vista last night and we caught some Channel cats but I did not break out the fly gear as he is 86 and I wanted to him to get hooked up, (and he did!) but I'll be back on the sewer bass before the cold front moves in. I'm using an 8wt. and flouro leader so I think I'm set gear wise so it seems that stealth wading and presentation will be what I need to work on the most. I live in the S.Hills of PGH so if anyone wants to get together and chase some very large carp, shoot me a message.
