It's amazing how much flack someone gets for not sharing one of their secret patterns.

Actually, I have never given anyone grief for not sharing their secret patterns. I give people grief for dancing around singing "I gotta secret... I gotta seeeeecret!" If you have a secret, great. Keep it.

This whole thing has the feel of a put up job. A guy who's made three posts to the site asks about a fly that is mentioned in a YouTube video. Another guy with two posts responds. Good luck spreading your fame at the next website.

PS: I'm about 10% serious, and 90% sarcastic. I really don't believe in or care about "secret flies".
