Wow, just when I was over my guilt from using a green weenie, now I have to worry about:

Being part of a "click" or is that Clique?

Not knowing about the cougar fly....

Not knowing the true meaning of the humpinator....

Having my own secret recipes, do I share them, do I tempt others about them....

Do they exist, do they not exist?

Do I truly have enough friends to form my own click/cliq?

Do I wear the correct Pad style hat when fishing, and if so, does that make me a wanna be...

oh my, I dropped a name, now I need to tell them I know other people to make me believable.

Now I have to drink something so the sun won't explode.

I can't take the pressure!
