When I bought a 6' furred leader, I stopped caring about leaders and just changed tippet. Usually I just put ~3' of 5x on the end, but recently I've gone to 2' of 4x and then a variable amount of whatever I need after that.

To some people, its rocket science. To me its not that important.

Then again, maybe I'd catch more if I cared more. Either way, I'm satisfied enough.
