Gold left and play hockey right? Now that is just plain weird. 😊

Just kidding.

As a beginner, I'd definitely start out with a shorter leader. I'd even go down to a 7.5 foot. I purchase most of my leaders and go with Orvis Superstrong most of the time and get them in 7.5 and 9 foot depending on where I will be fishing and what I will be fishing for. I rarely go longer than 9 foot.

I wouldn't try to shorten that long one. I'd just hang onto it and you might eventually use it. It might work better for you on another rod.
