I believe I know where you are talking about, and that's a good area, but just later in the year. The fish, mostly bows, will move into the riffles. the best part is no one ever fishes them and they are easier to catch.

Powey's curve, Trout Run Park, Camp Susque and by the Mill in Trout Run are you best bets this time of year. Forget the bridges up 14!

In between the popular spots you will find holdovers and the occassional wild brown. However, the fish are smarter and in less numbers. When I fish Lycoming these are the fish I go after. For this reading the water is key.
