

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Hi there

Re: Hi there

Author: : j_rutc

Date: : 2010/4/26 14:09:33

URL:

Thanks everyone for the advice. I was able to finally make it out yesterday, and put my patience into practice. I took my son fishing in Hibernia park Chester County - they have a kids pond that he enjoys fishing out of (spin casting), and after hooking himself and me being able to remove the hook without a trip to the ER he was ready to for me to give it a try. Any way, once he was done we moved over to the branch of the Brandywine Creek right next to the pond.

I thought I did well, casting anyway I got skunked. My son rather enjoyed watching me come up with nothing and to add insult to injury counting each cast I did. It did give me an opportunity to to explain the things I was doin so maybe in the near future wee will be buying an outfit for him. 😊

Any way thanks again, and maybe I will be seeing some of you out there!