Guys I am pretty new to fly fishing. Was just wondering which was is better to tie a dropper when fishing two nymphs, tying off the bend in the hooks or tying off the eye in the hook. I have had some small success with tying the second nymph off the eye of the hook but was wondering what you preferred. Thanks!

Either way is fine, from the eye or bend. Many times I tie a dropper rig (Czech Style) to fish 2 or more nymphs. I believe they drift more naturally.

Here are some common multi fly rigs:
