All of what Ryan mentioned is good.

I'll add still fishing small buggers with oversized hackle in clear, slow water. Fish often swim over and pick them up. I used to fish the little lehigh a lot, and this was one of the best methods.

The best, and most fun way to fish buggers IMO is to pound the banks with giant ones. Size 2 or 4 4xl. It's especially effective in high water when smaller stuff like sculpins, crays, dace, fingerlings, etc are disoriented.
