While I have caught fish on buggers, I will admit that its not many, and I don't use them often at all.

As was said, I see them representing sculpins, minnows, stoneflies, leeches, etc. The problem is, I have all those patterns. Every time I decide I'm going to try to imitate a sculpin, I end up reaching for the sculpin pattern before the bugger. Same goes for stoneflies, minnows, etc. About the only time I use them is for backup, if I run out of something.
