

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : House Bill 2235, Marcellus on State Forest Lands

Re: House Bill 2235, Marcellus on State Forest Lands

Author: : Brownout

Date: : 2010/5/5 22:51:50

URL:

Your comment about all systems nuc. in the open is not true. I am talking about the fear that is created with weaponized systems, and where they have gone since the first clouds they created.

The oil and gas companies do police universities and direct funding towards high start-up cost ideas. They take direct action when they deal with people who have no family and who are immune to threats besides the taking of their own life.

Trust you that all this is BS, and that you know some people who work in power, and they would probably know if it were that easy. That is a very bold statement.

Gravitics is one of the easiest to work on, and many people have made the discs spin and float, and some have even gone to the gov. and indicated the implications of what it could mean and do.