Mike & Afishinado,

Thanks for the advice. I have no experience with these flies (oddly enough), though I do fish a Brooks Stone fly imitation later in the season. So for the early black it sounds like 14 standard or 16 2x long. I'm not really a big fan of realistic patterns, but the stone fly seems sort of a neat insect to try and get closer to form.

Anyway, this has been helpful. Thanks.
