Mike, it seems to me that a lot of people have a huge sense of entitlement. When my four year old nephew sees a toy he wants in a store and he is told that he can't have it, he throws a screaming fit. I see a lot of comments on this site that mimic this behavior. Unbelievable! I posted those videos on youtube for fun and for friends to see Mike and me on the stream. If I had known it would cause such turmoil in so many lives, I would have thought twice about posting them. Then again, this is all quite amusing.
