

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : House Bill 2235, Marcellus on State Forest Lands

Re: House Bill 2235, Marcellus on State Forest Lands

Author: : Troy

Date: : 2010/5/13 16:25:20

URL:

I agree. We need to cut back with the urban development. I hope I am wrong, but I think PA is going to one big concrete slab eventually. It might not happen in our lifetime, but it will happen here before other areas of the US. Look at the Poconos. Once a very beautiful area. Now it still has its areas, but a lot of it is getting built up. We just won't have the room for all these people and trout to coexist.