

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : fishing for bass

Re: fishing for bass

Author: : Spyder20oz

Date: : 2006/11/21 18:33:17

URL:

Rabbit strip flies are amazing for bass, the way they move in the water looks so real. I generally use tungsten heads on my bass flies so they will sink fast and bass don't care about a fly that splashes when it hits the water. Sink-tip lines are great. Clousers, small deceivers, buggers, zonkers, classic streamers all work well for bass.