I've been tying some green drakes and coffin's the past 2 days. Mostly some extended bodied foam hackled flies on a standard sz 8 hook. They're turning out pretty good. Thanks for all the tips on this thread.

Anyone else go into a tying frenzy right before a big fishing trip? I feel like I have to tie as many flies as possible before I go so I'm prepared. I don't care if I'm bringing 1000 flies, I need 1000 more lol.
