I'll second the interest in the chest pack (vest).

Just had a chance to check out the site and the products. (also read the product report by skibo in the gear section). Looks like a great start to a new company. I've been looking to get a nice new dry fly rod in the near future. Nice to see some decently priced hooks too. Some smaller sizes would be nice in the hooks if I were to make 1 recommendation. I fish a lot of 16-22 sz flies. Thanks for the generosity with everyone on the site here and the discounts you're offering. I know that will go a long way. We all appreciate it!
