Frederick and others. Locate campground, call and speak to OWNER. Discuss what we do and what cooperation we want from them. Tell them 50 people give or take 20. Find out cabin rates and number of beds available. Find out about rental rooms, campers, lean-tos or whatever and how many tents can be accommodated; next, present the idea here. Include details, location, web links or whatever.

No one is going to refuse help in finding a right fit for our event. We can take over a small motel if there is camping and a location to gather nearby. All possibilities exist, but it takes someone to do the research. If you are eager to have a decision made, be equally eager to help with the research.

I am absolutely certain we can find a CG or other location which would be grateful for the extra patrons and free advertising and exposure to fly anglers that hosting us for a Jamboree brings with it.
