I guess alot could happen between now and then, and not saying I will make it next year, though I hope to. Sucks to hear there were problems with the campground, it sounds like a nice place. Anyway, this one is close by, looks nice and has tent/cabin/rv sites available.

Hopefully it is sorted by next summer, I was bummed to not be able to come this year, there are some guys on here I would like to meet. I am with Jay though, hanging out around a campfire = beer, as far as I am concerned.
