This is the exact reason I nymph instead of dry fly fishing. When you nymph is you miss a set it's because you're too late. For dries, first I can't follow the fuzz on the water and when I can when and a fish hits, I rip the fly out of it's mouth. I can fish terrestrials a bit, and I'm learning to just wait, which is a killer. You'll be fine and I too share your frustration. If you think golf is any better have at it. It's all the same. My youngest son can drive a ball well over 300 yards.. It's the greens that kill him. One puzzle at a time. Have fun!
