Was visiting my daughter in Wayne and took my rod along figuring I might get out in the morning to Valley. Went to the covered bridge in Valley Forge Park. Air temp was 79 when I arrived around 9:00am. Water was slightly up and off color, it seemed from the last time I was there. Water temp was 63. Fished up from the bridge. There was no surface activity at all. Got 2 nice fiesty browns on a #16 Copper John. Missed a couple others before a good storm rolled in around 10:30 and I left. All in all a good time even though cut short.
