Well, I don't dress in a civil war uniform, use a sickle to cut my lawn, drive a 74 AMC Town & Country wagon to the stream or use a vintage bamboo with a centerpin reel. I certainly won't use silk line but thanks for the info. Too much of a hassle. I think the advances in fishing technology are wonderful. I don't get to fish much anymore so I want to maximize / enjoy what little time I do get on the water. To each their own I guess. I'm not much of a vintage kind of guy. Not sure that my fly box has seen a mickey finn, adams, hares ear or any 'traditional' patterns in 15+ yrs. If you want to use bamboo and silk, knock yourself out.
