

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : silk fly line

Re: silk fly line

Author: : FrankRizzo

Date: : 2010/6/10 15:38:25

URL:

Sight, It's very refreshing to hear the opinion of someone that's obviously uneducated and unrefined. Did it ever cross your mind that there's more to life than polyester and domestic beer? Maybe, just maybe, some on the forum appreciate the finer things in life. Your ignorance is almost embarrassing to all fly fishers. Why don't you put the drool guard back on your keyboard and get back to packing the bananas or whatever it is that you do. Give a fool a computer and all the sudden he's an expert.

I myself have a Walter Rumi, a vintage H.L. Leonard & Mills, an Oyster Master Series and a Niemiera Slow Hand. You my friend have no idea what you are missing and we in the bamboo community are better off without you joining our ranks. Keep using your plastic lines and graphite rods. I guess adding one more mouth breather to the ranks that already soil this fine sport.