Went out again this morning, 06/13/2010 from 6:00 am to 8:30 am. More of the same. There was already someone in the Cacoosing confluence riffle, so I went up stream a bit and was welcomed by tons of risers. 22 poly spent wing female trico with a 22 male trico sparkle dun dropper. Caught a few on the sparkle dun. Took black sharpie to the 22 female for a sex change and began taking fish on the poly spent wing spinner. I again had to pull some of the poly out to thin the wing. I think I am going to tie some up with pearl crystal flash wings as I had quite a few refusals and am thinking the wing can be the only thing turning them off.
