afish,

I'm through with silk line. I'm now using a line that's made from the tears of the poor. Doesn't float very well but it is soooo satisfying to use. Noisy like sharkskin except is a crying sound when it goes through the guides.

I used to be able to fish the tully and see only 20-30 other fisherman. Now there's so many guys standing in the creek, it's raising the water temps!
