

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Humpinator recipe

Re: Humpinator recipe

Author: : plumbob

Date: : 2007/8/20 19:22:41

URL:

I've lost track of who said they tied this humpinator. One little piece of advise, DON'T EVER say your fly is an original pattern because as soon as someone says that, even if its not you, everybody will come out of the woodwork to put the pattern down. You'll have everybody saying its JUST like this pattern or just like that pattern or my great great grandfather tied one just like it 150 years ago. You can't win period. Trust me I went through it when a magazine claimed a pattern I had tied to be the "most original" when I never did. If you got a good pattern keep it to yourself or post it and let others claim how great it is or isn't. With the name making it a cross between a stimulator and a humpy I can tell you right now you'll get a lot of "Its just like" even if its not.