Bikerfish,

That's a good thought to consider. Thank you for bringing that aspect to my attention. Ive been researching away checking out reel after reel after reel. So far Sage has been my least favorite.

I like the Ross evolution as far as looks but I don't know a whole lot about its performance.

And Orvis, if it wasn't for that non-sealed drag Id consider them.

I'm still checking out other reels right now. But with what you said I might consider spending a little more than my budget. Just don't tell any one I know or else they will think I'm crazy for spending that amount of dough on "fishing stuff." Ive heard enough of that in my short life.
