Sight_Nymph,

I'll take a look at all the reels you mentioned, I wrote them all down. Thanks for the other words of advise.

Heritage-Angler,

Do you think my Lamson Velocity (it's from the year 2005-2006, can't remember) will have the same problem as yours? (not being corrosion proof). That video is really long, I'm still watching it... You'd still vouch for the Konic though? Hows about the Guru?

Afishinado,

That was a really good article, it explained a lot of things and cleared up some stuff for me. Thanks.

To every one else,

There is a lot to consider with so many choices, it's so hard to just pick one! I'll probably check out the reels at the Evening Rise, I'm sure they will have some different reels than Cabelas.

Though having some experience with Lamson and watching that video makes me lean towards them. I'm really going to be open minded about this decision so I'm still considering all the other mentioned reels.
