

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Pohopoco Carbon County 06-24-2010

Re: Pohopoco Carbon County 06-24-2010

Author: : RyanR

Date: : 2010/7/13 14:05:43

URL:

You're correct I simplified too much when I stated fishery management. I did just mean the so-called fishery releases under the Recreation release plan. I figure its an improvement that its not whitewater releases every weekend all season long and at least anglers are getting invited into the room (even if we're still fighting for an equal place at the table.) Still trying to get up to speed with all the aspects of that recreational plan knowing its consequences for the fishery inside and out but I'm getting there. I'm an enthusiastic cheerleader for its potential.

I got my copy of the newsletter last week, great stuff. The fingerling survey should reveal some great data. Just from word of mouth and guide reports I think the PFBC will be pleased. I've caught fin-clipped fingerlings in several locations up and down the middle river.

This year between the latter 2 of those 3 stream I mentioned I absolutely wore out my slate drake dry flies! The dry fly fishing was outrageous on both streams this spring.

Now that we just got a 2-man Scadden I can't wait to get my Dad out on the Lehigh this fall.