Where to fish this time of year?

I've fished area streams for trout in the past, during the cooler months, but haven't flyfished (or any type of fishing) for a number of years and was wondering where would be a good place to get reacquainted to the sport during these hot days?

I live in King of Prussia. I'm not against driving within a 50 mile radius.

I would prefer spots that are easy for casting (I haven't casted my fly rod in years) and wading, since I'm just now getting back into this. Ideally I'd love a spot that has easy parking.

Any recommendations for spots this time of year?
