

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Where to fish this time of year?

Re: Where to fish this time of year?

Author: : afishinado

Date: : 2010/7/19 10:55:59

URL:

Quote:

mark2741 wrote:

Thanks! I fished the Tulpehocken many years ago for trout. I will definitely check it out.

One thing I forgot to make clear in my original post - I'm open to any kind of fish - bass, sunfish, etc.

Thanks again!

If that's the case, Marsh Creek Reservoir is close by and the sunnies love flies. Panfishing is a great way to introduce, or in your case, reintroduce yourself to FFing. There's also some nice bass in there.

Here the PFBC map. Zoom in on Chester County and there's a big blue dot on Marsh Creek Reservoir.

<http://www.fish.state.pa.us/lakes.htm>

Good luck.