

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Cheap Rods & Gear You Are Proud to Own

Re: Cheap Rods & Gear You Are Proud to Own

Author: : jdaddy

Date: : 2010/7/28 13:12:17

URL:

Quote:

I had figured they were LST blanks without the writing, but I think your answer is more intriguing.

100% confident that they are LST's, not Redington. The codes match the LST, the color matches the LST, the single foot guides match the LST, guide wraps same color as LST. They had the big honking LST's as well, like 13' or something guess they were spey rods? Plus it would only make sense that Cabelas would have a prototype of a rod they sell with their name on it.