Your words have strong medicine. The fact is, I have homework on the river. What you, and others have been saying is that many bass does not mean that grandpa lives there too.

I am going to experiment with longer leaders (I use about a 10-12' usually), maybe find some shot for even the heavier "Deep Clousers", and focus more on the deeper holds.

PS - Any information is wiser for me, and I appreciate the response.
