I was trying to stay with Fly Rod. I grew up on the Susky near Tunkhannock, PA fishing with my Dad for catfish. I haven't fished with a spin rod in a while, but a thought.

This morning I did somewhat better. I only caught 3, but all of them between 10-12". All of them caught on a pretty heavy deep clouser (I voted against the split shot because I usually tangle.) in 12-18" of water, BUT it was running hard. I believe I am on to something. More experimentation to come. And I may even make a visit to the mini-jam on the Little J.
