How weighted are your buggers? I fish bead head with lead wire under dubbing. I cast and wait to give them a chance to sink. Catch little ones and a couple of rock bass once in awhile but I fish smallies so much slower than trout. I twitch, strip fast and wait, twitch, strip fast and wait. It's almost painful but I get some nice size bass. I also fish Zonkers and some jigs which I'm not sure are official fly fishing flies and I have to be really careful casting them as not to hook an ear. My favorite is still the weighted woolly bugger. Best of luck and send a pic when you hook up on that lunker!
