How would you like if Alpa (for example) buys $400 worth of raffle tickets and wins EVERYTHING? I wouldn't like it. I'm not just saying that because he was voted most annoying on the forum either. I would like everyone to win something if possible. I won't need to win because I'll catch all of the fish and the biggest ones that weekend. :)

Quit being a loser.

If Alpa bought $400 worth of tickets and everyone else bought a single $5 ticket and he subsequently won everything . . .well . . . it's just freaking math. If you take people's entry out because they won, you are simply insuring you will sell one ticket per person and limit FUDR's potential donation. One prize per person applies to free drawings only imo.
