

---

Subject: : Print, Video, Audio Discussions

Topic: : Harvey's Memories, Patterns, and Tactics

Harvey's Memories, Patterns, and Tactics

Author: : tabasco\_joe

Date: : 2007/9/11 21:56:18

URL:

I picked up Harvey's Memories, Patterns, and Tactics last week and finished reading it. Interesting he tends to contradict some of the common beliefs . I hadn't known how many things in the sport he pioneered. Must have been awesume taking his course at PS. Another contradiction, or seemling so, is how Harvey describes the large numbers of trout in mountain streams prior to WWII. My grandfather who was born about 15 years before Harvey and lived in Union County (just east of Center) often told me how bad the streams were messed up by the logging and that they took 50 years to recover.