Dont worry about the silver bending thing coming out of the bugs butt, just make sure the cant see the tippet!

Exactly.

I fish the LLH about 3-4 times per year (not a lot). This past Sunday I caught 7 in about an hour and a half using 6x, on Al's Rats, crane flies and sunken ants. This was 4 - 5:30 PM, sunny and hot with one eye on my 10 year old son and the other on my buddy's kid. Not exactly ideal conditions.

If someone is not catching in the Heritage stretch and they're using 6x (or at the smallest 7x), tippet is not the problem.

Just sayin'...
