

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : KETTLE CREEK TACKLE SHOP

Re: KETTLE CREEK TACKLE SHOP

Author: : markthinkstoomuch

Date: : 2010/8/31 10:41:13

URL:

The guy who fed the deer was Slim Croyle. He had once owned the Folded Hills Lodge (still there?) about 4 1/2 miles north of Crossfork. He sold most of the property off and moved into a trailer a couple of hundred yards further up the road. My Great Aunt and Uncle, Jim and Jeanne Sumpter had a home in between these two properties & I spent a good part of my childhood mulling Slim Croyle. His way with all the deer was fascinating, but he was also a little scary. I still have recurring dreams of him chasing me...but that's another story. I haven't seen the place in nearly twenty years, and I live abroad now, but I understand it is unrecognizable but for the little pond in the meadow across the road. I believe the property, including my family's, was purchased by the family that owns/owned adelphia cable. I've got some pictures back at my parents' home in Pittsburgh. Will try to find them the next time I return.