Damn Flyswatter. You must be an awesome fly fisherman. You seem like you've got it all down pat. I wish I had your exact perspective on fly fishing. Then maybe I could be as judgemental towards others as you....

Who gives an "f" what tippet size other people are fishing. That's great that you can identify bugs on the water. Your comments come off to be pompous "second nature to us" referring to inexperienced anglers as "they" Your attitude demonstrates just how inexperienced you are no matter how many hatches you've observed or trout you have caught.

Fred,
You just can't see the 8x to tie the fly on. Don't be a hater!
