Don't look at me, I use Danville's spider thread for tippet...I find that the 30 denier count really gives me smooth, drag free drifts and lets me extend the fight for maximum pleasure.

The fish don't seem to mind, either. At the end, its like they just flop into my hand excited to see who so effortlessly played them, and when I'm done, they always want to hang around in the eddies beneath my feet to see me bring in their buds.
