IBSP has a little bit of everything as well. At the end of the beach is Barnegat Inlet where you can fish the jetty and also you can walk/kayak around in the back bay area if the fish are crusing around in there.

I have been there several times and have only once been able to catch anything on my fly rod and that was small snapper blues. Still fun though.

The only problem with IBSP is that to reach the end near the inlet you need to drive on the beach and that will cost $50 for a weekend pass. It is a long walk from the end of the road. You can walk on at other spots like the popular Gilkin's (sp?) access.

I am up for going anywhere though.
