

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Rookie

Re: Rookie

Author: : tomgamber

Date: : 2007/9/19 9:20:35

URL:

Just remember, if you are not going for any great distance, your back cast shouldn't go much past vertical. This is the biggest casting mistake beginners make. Make your backcast with as much power as your forecast and let the line straighten out before you bring it forward. You'll have better luck. Also use more shoulder and elbow than wrist. Lock that wrist.