For Smallmouths back in the good old days, all you would need to do is strip a Bugger or Clouser, or fish poppers on the surface to catch tons of fish. Now too, I find that drifting nymphs or leech imitations the most productive way to catch fish. A size 8–12 BHHE, or a size 4-8 stone fly nymph (w/ rubber legs), dead drifted and swung through the current at the end of the drift works well. Also a good Hellgrammite or leech pattern fished same way seems to save the day. I use a brightly colored leader butt to follow through the drift.
