

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Cold weather/water gear

Re: Cold weather/water gear

Author: : pete41

Date: : 2007/9/20 19:10:24

URL:

Your feet will be the biggest problem.

A pair of neoprene boot foot waders with a boot foot large enough to wiggle your feet while wearing under sox made for hiking and wool sox.

You do not want your feet to sweat on the way to the river or while wading. Dry feet are a must for a comfortable days fishing so use talc or anything it takes. Your question brings back memories of the real agony of freezing feet and not wanting to leave the water and miss fishing. Eventually I would have to, to get feeling back.

Keep your feet and head warm and the rest is easy. Wool watch caps under a hood.

A vest under the jacket is a winner as it keeps the chest area warm while not bulking your arms.