Flannel lined jeans...I fish in them, hunt in them, shovel the driveway and ski in them...nothin' better. Personally I like stocking foot neoprenes as boot foots are rather clumsy to walk in the snow with. The absolute best advice I could give you on winter wear is do two things...first wear a hat and two keep your core warm. If the brain and vital organs are warm, the body won't divert energy away from your fingers and toes. If those two areas stay warm it all stays warm.
