So you keep quiet about those waters because they may be someone else's secret? Where does that leave any water? I just told you honestly in the secret stream thread that my "special places" are on many different streams, some quite popular. Is it OK for you to speak of those? This is the other flaw in the poll. Everyone has to supply their own definitions. What is "small" what is "unknown" what is "fragile" what is "underutilized" what is "overcrowded?"
