In the interest of fairness, I balance the pros of sharing info with these cons:

1. Someone might have an aneurysm if you mention their secret;
2. Irresponsible anglers tend to be lazy and would never find the secret place without help, thus, only responsible anglers will ever find it;

(Assuming a post drives additional anglers to the location,)

3. I have a greater chance of finding solitude whenever it strikes my fancy to visit there.
4. Private lands might get posted, so that whereas a few people were able to fish it, now no one is;
5. A fistfight may break out if you arrive at your secret location and find me or sal fishing there. 🤪
