Rob,

You're right, the walk down to the "north jetty" is over a mile. It's easier at low tide when you can walk on wetter, harder sand. Lacking a 4WD I hike the beach and usually really enjoy it.

On Wed however, it was tough. I shoulda wet waded like everyone else - instead wore the waders on a hot day and was soaked with sweat. I didn't bring enough water and finished the day thoroughly smoked. If I just walk it straight thru I can get down to the jetty in about 20-25 minutes but I walk fast. Usually I'll stop and fish a few spots and chat with the fishermen who line the beach.
