No, only suckers. Only the suckers are left.

I don't know. Suckers are slimy. How do you walk across the backs of them??

You must goto the Little Lehigh for that. CmCacklin will post a TPO video extolling its virtues shortly, I'm sure.

You can walk across the spare tires strewn in the Monocacy, though, without getting wet. There was also the day I fished (oddly enough, for suckers!) over first the trans, and then an engine block.

I didn't stop to look at the serial, it was an I4, nothing interesting.
